

MUSIC NOTES:

The handbell piece today includes the hymntune used for Isaac Watts' great Lenten hymn "Alas! And Did My Savior Bleed." The tune has Scottish origins and the bell arrangement has a Celtic flavor to it using suspended bell mallet rolls to simulate a bagpipe drone.

The closing hymn is by Midwesterner Clara Scott (1841-1897). She was the first woman to publish a volume of anthems, the Royal Anthem Book, in 1882. "Open My Eyes That I May See" was written in 1895 two years before her death after being thrown from her carriage by a spooked horse. The hymn was inspired by Psalm 119, verse 18, "Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law." Michael Hawn writes, "The image of open eyes is common in the Bible. In some cases, this is a sign of Christ's healing power, as in [today's] scripture when Jesus gave sight to the blind man at the pool of Siloam in John 9. Closed eyes, on the other hand, could be a metaphor for avoiding the truth as in the case of John 12:40, a passage following the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem and beginning his journey to the cross: 'He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.'"

CALL TO CONFESSION

PRAYER OF CONFESSION (together)

Holy Jesus, we confess that we fail to question our own sightlessness. Being so sure that we “see,” we miss the truths you would teach us. With the poultice of your love, cure this blindness. Open our eyes to our own misunderstandings, our own failures and our own faults. Make our “shadow side” known to us and help us to diminish it with the light of your grace. For it is only when we see ourselves clearly that we can worship you truly. In the name of Jesus we pray. Amen.

ASSURANCE OF PARDON

*CONGREGATIONAL RESPONSE AMAZING GRACE
Amazing grace, how sweet the sound, that saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found, was blind, but now I see.

ANTHEM “How Deep the Father’s Love for Us” arr. Larry Shackley

*How deep the Father’s love for us, how vast beyond all measure
That he should give his only Son to make a wretch his treasure.
How great the pain of searing loss. The Father turns his face away
As wounds which mar the Chosen One bring many sons to glory.
How high, how wide, how deep the Father’s love for us.*

*Behold the Man upon a cross, my sin upon his shoulders.
Ashamed, I hear my mocking voice call out among the scoffers.
It was my sin that held him there until it was accomplished;*

*His dying breath has brought me life. I know it is finished.
How pure, how strong, how deep the Father’s love for us.*

*I will not boast of anything: no gifts, no pow’r, no wisdom.
But I will boast in Jesus Christ: his death and resurrection.
Why should I gain from his reward? I cannot give an answer.
But this I know with all my heart: His wounds have paid my ransom.
How high, how wide. How pure, how strong.
How deep the Father’s love for us.*
