

Hymn Notes:

In Christ There Is No East or West (318)

This text is by William Arthur Dunkerley, known in literary circles under a number of pseudonyms including John Oxenham. It is from an extravagant 1903 production, "The Pageant of Darkness and Light,"—this remnant being the only part of it that has endured. It was sung by a quartet as a quiet bridge between the final triumphant processional march and the full audience's singing of "All People That on Earth Do Dwell" (#385) which was introduced by a drum roll and crash of cymbals and bass drum. This pageant was part of a month-long missionary exhibition.

The tune is by Alexander R. Reinagle and named for the church where he was organist from 1822-1853.

*Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine! O what a foretaste of glory divine!
Heir of salvation, purchase of God, born of His spirit, washed in His blood.*

*This is my story, this is my song, praising my Savior, all the day long;
This is my story, this is my song, praising my Savior, all the day long.*

*Perfect submission, perfect delight, visions of rapture now burst on my sight;
Angels descending, bring from above, echoes of mercy, whispers of love.*

This is my story, this is my song, praising my Savior, all the day long;

This is my story, this is my song, praising my Savior, all the day long.

*Perfect submission, all is at rest; I in my Savior, am happy and blessed.
Watching and waiting, looking above, filled with his goodness, lost in His love.*

*This is my story, this is my song, praising my Savior, all the day long;
This is my story, this is my song, praising my Savior, all the day long.*
